

Any Man or Woman

Who desires a Situation can put in

The World, Daily or Sunday, a

20 Word Advt. for 10 Cents

LAST EDITION

SIGNAL SYSTEM
IS DEMANDED.

It Should Be Combined with a Complete Patrol Wagon
Service.

NEW YORK BEHIND THE AGE.

A Necessity for the More Perfect
Protection of Life and Property.

CIVILIZATION REQUIRES IT.

Why Has the Sum of $100,000
for the Purpose Laid
Idle for Six Years?

an hour or more on a crowded thoroughfare, or in a big tenement district, struggling with a prisoner on the verge of delirium tremens, with his face scratched and uniform torn, before the "stretcher" arrives? How often, also, are they compelled even to drag their prisoners through the streets, actually drag them through muddy thoroughfares, along the sidewalks, sometimes several blocks, amid the jeers of the onlookers?

These scenes have been witnessed nearly everywhere. They can be seen almost any day in the week. The investigation of the records of the Police Department will show it, or the record of the Police Courts. In fact, they have become so common that newspaper editors have ceased to publish anything of such occurrences unless they are surrounded by unusually dramatic incidents.

What the effect of such scenes upon the youth of the city is, it is impossible to estimate. It is a disgrace to the city, and a source of extreme embarrassment to the present obnoxious system that demands its relegation to the rear.

Scores of innocent men, it is well known, have been arrested even during the present year. They have been taken from their offices, or from their own doors, on horse-cars, or on the sidewalks, and marched by a policeman through the streets to the station-house or to the court. Many have been forced to parade thus in their own neighborhood, among their acquaintances, who naturally conclude that a stain of some sort rests upon their characters. It is impossible that they have been "honorably discharged." They have been seen under arrest, and while that intelligence flies like fire among flax, few take the trouble to inquire about the disposition of the case.

What a simple remedy for all these evils is a proper patrol wagon service. Then on making an arrest an officer could at once telephone his patrol station and in a minute or so the wagon would arrive and convey the prisoner to station or court-house.

Under the laws of the State every citizen is a policeman, and in fact is guilty of a misdemeanor if he does not act as such in cases of emergency. It is safe to say that not even the hardest criminal is willing to stand idly by and see a murder committed. Under the present condition, however, if he is fearful of his own life, he can do nothing.

If there was a signal station on every corner, as there ought to be, a telephone, or something which every one could use—not a telephone of which a policeman alone holds the key, to tell his superiors that a crime is being committed, or something which every one could handle, how easy it would be!

It might be argued that false alarms would be turned in. That argument has been made before and proved fallacious. Mail boxes are now on nearly every block, and on top of each box mail matter is piled high every day. How often is any of it stolen?

There are lots of boxes in the city at present of which any one can send in an alarm. Yet the number of false alarms sent in is insignificant beside the good which is accomplished.

Two days ago an incident occurred which, however trivial in itself, demonstrated the absolute necessity of a signal system as well as the patrol wagon. The foreman of the New York Central Railroad's grain elevator, Sixth street and North River, was attacked by some discharged employees. He drew a pistol and fired at the men, and later some arrests were made.

There was every indication there of a riot. Twenty-one men had been discharged, and all were inclined to be ugly. The excitement lasted over an hour, and the foreman of the elevator to have been fired and many lives lost.

The nearest police station was at Sixty-eighth street and Tenth avenue, so that a good half-hour would be lost in sending a messenger there and coming back with the reserves on foot. Fortunately there was a telephone in the elevator building, and word was sent to Police Headquarters. Captain Doherty was sent up on a run to take charge of the police forces and suppress the "riot." Word was also sent to the station-house and Capt. Smith with half a dozen men hurried to the scene.

Order had been restored, however, by that time, and a policeman, stationed nearly two blocks away, had made the arrests. What would have happened, however, had the men really broken out in a riot, and without a signal system or a patrol wagon, at hand, it is disagreeable even to conjecture.

Six years have been wasted in some manner in dealing with this pressing need. There is a demand for a patrol wagon, and what the public wants it will have. Humanity demands it. The safety of the city requires it. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment must act and act promptly. This old, obsolete system must go.

The Police Board has now in its possession $100,000. The Commissioners have not yet decided what to do with it. Why do they not do something? It is not a question of systems or of politics. The public wants something which every man or woman can use in the way of signalling the police. It wants patrol wagons, which will prevent the present debating spectacle of seeing men and women dragged through the streets.

Comptroller Myers is in favor of a system. He has told an "Evening World" reporter that he was in favor of anything that would benefit the Police Department and the city.

"But what are we going to do?" he said. "Six years ago the Board of Estimate and Apportionment voted the Police Commissioners $100,000, and promised them to have the best system that they could devise. I understand they have been quarrelling among themselves ever since. They came here again this year asking $50,000, although they had not expended the $100,000 we gave them. Let them do something."

"I agree with 'The Evening World' that we ought to have the best system that we could get right here in this city."

MELLO OUT TO FIGHT. A HORROR IN ITALY.

Insurgent Admiral Said to Have Left the Rio Harbor.

Great Naval Battle Expected Off Brazilian Coast.

Swift War Vessels to Intercept Peixoto's New Squadrons.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company, from Rio de Janeiro, says that Admiral de Mello has left Rio de Janeiro with several of his swiftest war vessels in order to intercept the new ships which are on their way to reinforce President Peixoto.

The despatch adds that great excitement prevails at Rio de Janeiro, and it is believed that a great naval battle will shortly be fought off the Brazilian coast.

DESTROYER NEARLY READY.

She Will Probably Sail for Brazil by Next Sunday.

It will be but a matter of a very few days now when the Ericsson torpedo boat Destroyer, which Charles R. Flint & Co. have purchased for the Brazilian government, will be ready to leave these waters for Rio de Janeiro.

Flint & Co. are negotiating with several parties for the services of a steamer to tow the Destroyer to Brazil. They have three or four steamers in mind and have not made a selection as yet owing to the fact that a steamer too high is asked. They are now playing the different prospective sellers against each other and when the figures are reduced sufficiently the choice of the towing steamer will be made.

It is expected that the Destroyer will get away not later than Sunday next. She will probably be given a trial spin down the bay to-morrow or Friday.

THIRTY-FIVE LIVES REPORTED LOST IN A RAILWAY WRECK.

Milan and Venice Express Trains Run Into a Freight Train.

Rumor that Wounded Passengers Were Burned to Death.

(By Associated Press.)
MILAN, Nov. 29.—An express train, bound from this city to Venice, collided at a quarter of nine o'clock with a heavy freight train which was stationary on the rails at the limits of the first station between Milan and Treviglio.

It is reported that thirty-five people met death in the wreck and that fifteen others were severely injured.

The bodies of the dead and the wounded people are being conveyed to this city and to Treviglio, relief trains having been despatched to the scene of the accident as soon as the collision was reported.

Full details of the disaster are anxiously expected, as the most alarming reports have reached this city; among them being a rumor that the passenger train caught fire shortly after the accident, and that a number of wounded people were burned to death.

Thirteen dead bodies have thus far been removed from the wreck of the Venice express, and twenty wounded people have been brought to the hospitals of this city from the scene of the disaster.

KUCHAN'S GREAT LANTERN.

There Were 100 Candles from 17 to 24 Inclusive.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—A despatch from Tehran says that the details of the recent earthquake disaster at Kuchan are only just arriving.

It is now learned that first shock, which occurred on Nov. 17 at 2:30 o'clock in the evening, completely destroyed the town and all the villages within a radius of thirty miles.

Private reports place the number of dead at a much smaller figure than the 12,000 first reported. The shocks continued daily until Nov. 24. Altogether there were one hundred and sixty distinct shocks.

On Nov. 23 a great storm set in, with heavy rains in the day time, and snow at night. This greatly increased the sufferings of the thousands of people whose homes had been destroyed, and who had only tents to shelter them.

PHELAN SUE FOR DIVORCE.

His Wife Says He Is Living with Annie Harrison.

Mrs. Catharine Phelan, of 115 Clermont avenue, Brooklyn, to-day asked Justice Smith for $25 a week alimony and $300 in counsel fee, pending the suit for absolute divorce she has brought against her husband, Frank M. Phelan.

The Phelans were married Dec. 18, 1881. They lived together until May, 1891. They have no children. Mrs. Phelan says her husband is a travelling salesman, who makes $2,000 a year. She also says that he has $5,000 in bank.

She names one Annie Harrison as co-respondent, and says that Phelan is now living with her in the city of New York. Phelan in answer says that his wife left him in 1891 and took about $7,000 of his money with her. He says she went to California.

He says that subsequently she returned to New York, and that he has since that time been living with her in the Williamsburg Savings Bank to defend her suit.

Justice Smith took the papers.

TO-MORROW'S GREAT GAME.

Yale and Princeton Will Meet Promptly at 2 O'Clock.

The University Athletic Club Committee having in charge the Yale-Princeton football game to-morrow afternoon announces that the game will begin at 2 o'clock sharp. The gates will be open at 1 o'clock.

It is expected that those going by the L. road buy tickets both ways to avoid as much as possible confusion after the game.

The committee also desires to make it known that in cases where persons have tickets to the game, but are unable to attend, they should notify the committee by telegraphing the balance of the ticket to the committee, so that the balance will be returned to them. The matter will be taken up after the game, and the committee requests a little patience from those having money coming to them.

POSTAL CLERK ADMITS FRAUD.

He Had Used a Stamp of Postmaster Dayton's Name.

Richard Halse, twenty-five, a clerk in the Money Order Department of the Post-office, at a salary of $600 a year, was held in $2,000 bail by Commissioner Shields this morning. He was arrested last evening in Post-office Station A, where he was attempting to pass a check for $1,000, which he had obtained by means of a stamp of Postmaster Dayton's signature, which he affixed to several money orders. He admitted having had in his possession a stamp of Postmaster Dayton's signature, which he affixed to several money orders that he had filled in himself.

He also admits taking a number of checks from the Post-office for two years in the Post-office.

STREET-CLEANING FRAUD.

Horses Worth $36,000 Sold the City of New York for Over $65,000.

WHO WAS IN ON THE DIVISION?

One Reason the Department Has Given the City Poor Service.

Two months ago, soon after Street-Cleaning Commissioner William S. Brewster took office as successor to Commissioner Thomas S. Brennan, he made an official report to Mayor Gilroy, this report, which was based upon work of the Brennan administration, Commissioner Andrews complained the Department needed more money to do its work properly. He said that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department.

In his report to the Mayor, he said that Commissioner Andrews says that the Department had absorbed large sums of public money, for which citizens the city has had no adequate return. He said that the Brennan administration had been the rule in past years that the larger the appropriation, the more perfect the work, and the poorer the service of the Department